Ultimatum Terms Given by U.S., Britain

NEW YORK, April 28—Morgan Beatty, NBC commentator, said in a broadcast from Washington today that he had "confirmed on competent authority the report circulating in the capital" that the German high command had made a request for surrender to the governments of Britain and the United States.

There was no confirmation of Beatty's statement. The NBC commentator said: "I have confirmed on competent authority the report circulating in the capital that the German military high command has made a request for surrender to the governments of this country and Great Britain. I have confirmed that the offer was made in midweek, and perhaps transmitted Wednesday, and was immediately taken under consideration. It was determined, however, that the offer would be acceptable only provided the Germans also include Russia. The German government has until Tuesday night to reply to the Allied demand."

HITLER DYING!

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Reuters in a dispatch datelined from San Francisco said today that Heinrich Himmler had sent a message to the United States and Britain that Hitler was dying and would not live 48 hours, after an announcement of an unconditional surrender by Himmler.

Revolt in 2 German Cities

Salzburg

ON GERMAN-SWISS FRONTIER, April 28 (AP)—An effort to establish a new German government under leadership of Walther Funk, president of the Reichsbank, at Salzburg failed last Tuesday, it was learned reliably tonight.

Heavy fighting between German army troops and SS men was reported in Salzburg—12 miles north of Bechtesgaden—and the situation was said ctill to be chaotic.

Funk has served as minister of economics and as a member of the wartime ministerial council.

Reports from across the frontier from sources usually reliable said that Funk and five other members of the old Reich government met at Salzberg on April 24 and issued a proclamation that said "the government has ceased to exist," and urging Germans to stop all resistance.

The proclamation said "local authorities are requested to act as they see fit to avoid any further bloodshed. The German army is capitulating, and any further resistance will only worsen the future of the German people."

The reports said the proclamation was signed by Funk as "provisional Reich's chancellor," and by Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch as "minister of war."

EUROPE TODAY—While rejoicing still continues over the junction of American and Soviet forces at Torgau, 75 miles south of Berlin, the liberation of Milan, Italy, today announced that Fifth Army forces driving up the Po valley have reached the Swiss border. Meanwhile, Patton pounds down the road forward Linz in Austria and Munich is threatened.

Munich

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—German soldiers revolted today in Munich, birthplace of Nazism and scene of another revolt in 1923—the Hitler beer cellar putsch. Anti-Nazi troops, attempting to seize the Bavarian government in the waning hours of Hitler's power, actually won control of the city's radio station long enough to broadcast a call to German troops to lay down their arms.

Leaders of the attempted coup declared in their broadcast Gen. Ritter von Epp, long a staunch Nazi and governor of Bavaria, had decided to break off the fight against the Allies as senseless.

Paul Giesler, gauleiter of Munich, broadcasting personally after the revolt apparently was almost stifled, declared "a party of deserters who are still calling themselves soldiers, I am sorry to say, tried to arrest me and use me for their dirty business."

This "traitorous element," under a Capt. Wernecke "has been made harmless," Giesler said.

But indicating the Nazis still had not fully regained control, Giesler exhorted Germans to "not let yourselves be disturbed during the next hours, days and weeks by misuse of broadcasts."

The insurrectionists broadcast their appeal earlier under the name of the "Free Bavarian Movement."

American troops driving on the Bavarian capital heard the anti-Nazi broadcast calling on the Allies to bomb Field Marshal Kesselring's headquarters at Pullach, six miles south of Munich.

A field dispatch from AP correspondent Edward D. Ball with the Third Army, quoted the Munich radio as saying the revolt started with Von Epp seizing power.

"The hour of freedom has struck," the broadcast said, asking calm faith in the new leadership, exhorting Germans to stop fighting, and French prisoners to leave work.

Giesler declared "these traitors wanted to stab us in the back in this most difficult of all hours. We can only survive if we remain faithful to our fuehrer."

A parade of Nazi officials came to German microphones denouncing the attempted coup.

There was no word from Von Epp himself. He once ordered death for hundreds of workers in Bavaria to stamp out a Socialist movement.

Ernest Roehm, Brown Shirt captain slain by Hitler's purge at Munich over a decade ago, was a protege of Von Epp, however.

The Munich station broadcast a proclamation accusing Capt. Wernecke of perpetrating the "hoax." It declared that since he was unknown, he had used names of high German officers.

Reds Attack Gestapo's Berlin Fort

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—The German high command declared today Soviet troops had crashed through Berlin's inner defense ring and were fighting on Alexanderplatz, site of Gestapo headquarters. Nazi planes were flying in reinforcements, food and ammunition to the fanatical garrison.

German armies facing the Americans on the Elbe have been withdrawn in an attempt to relieve the capital, the war bulletin said. Earlier, the Germans said a relief army was nearing Berlin from a Russian trap to the southeast.

Only one-quarter of the flaming, crumbling city remained in Nazi hands. Soviet troops were boring in block by block, and other divisions sped west in a push to isolate the last Nazi Baltic ports.

Russian correspondents in Berlin declared trapped Germans were trying to escape in wholesale fashion. German officers could not halt the suicidal resistance because of Nazi SS overlords, the correspondents added.

These front dispatches said many Nazis were discarding uniforms for civilian clothes.

The broadcast German communique said the Russians had made new penetrations from the north in Charlottenburg and from the south across Templehof airdrome, with "fighting for the center of the city begun on Alexanderplatz and at Halesches Tor."

The Alexanderplatz runs through the heart of Berlin, and was a principal commercial center of the Reich capital.

Germans withdrawn from the Elbe front are attacking eastward toward surrounded Berlin, the bulletin added.

The enemy communique also declared Germans were "attacking toward the north" in the Elbe region where American-Russian forces had merged.

The Halesches Tor or gate is 1¼ miles from Unter Den Linden and the same distance from the Tiergarten.

15th to Be Occupation Army

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, PARIS, April 28 (AP)—The new American 15th Army will take over occupation of the U. S. section of Germany, it was indicated today.

Military government officers at headquarters of the 15th commander, Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, asserted today there would be no pampering of Germans by occupation forces. The Americans are expected to occupy much of southern Germany, a section now under attack by the Third and Seventh and the French First armies.

German civilians will be allowed a diet one-third as bountiful as that of the American soldier and only slightly more than half as generous as the standard set for liberated Europe. Average German rations will total 1150 calories.

3 Armies Near Munich

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

PARIS, April 28 (AP)—The American Seventh Army closed today within 25 miles of Munich where revolt seethed. Augsburg, third city of Bavaria, fell to Lt. Gen. Patch's troops. The Seventh Army reached the Austrian frontier at Fuessen, 55 miles over the towering Alps from the Brenner Pass, after charging 45 miles into the western end of the German national redoubt.

Three armies were advancing on Munich and threatening to encircle the city, third largest in Germany.

Gen. Patton's Third Army is within 27 miles of the city, while his tank divisions moved down the Danube valley in Austria toward an imminent junction with the Russians west of Vienna to seal off Czechoslovakia and carve bisected Germany into three death traps.

The French First Army was 40 miles southwest of Munich and deep in the Nazi redoubt. The closest approach to Munich was from the west beyond Landsberg.

Third Army troops were chattering back and forth by radio with Russians in Austria. At last reports, the Americans were barely 25 miles from Linz, one of Hitler's favorite cities and on the last intact route into the redoubt from the Pilsen-Prague munitions area.

Germany was cut in two in the center and the Russians reported new junctions with American forces on the Elbe. The iron band between the southern and northern German pockets was perhaps 50 miles wide.

Supreme headquarters noted that 46,694 Germans surrendered Thursday, raising the April total for Gen. Eisenhower's armies to 1,159,217 and the aggregate since D-Day to 2,488,922. The Seventh Army took 23,000 prisoners and the British seized 3000 including two generals and a vice admiral at Bremen. A completed submarine and nine of the building ways were captured at Bremen with a damaged, unfinished destroyer.

Operations of the First and Ninth armies along the Elbe were mostly blacked out, and the Russians said little of the campaigns around the south and north pockets.

French Block Drive by Allies

PARIS, April 28 (AP)—A supreme headquarters' statement today declared the French First Army was obstructing the Allies drive southeast against the Nazi redoubt by its persistence in continuing to occupy Stuttgart.

The statement said Sixth Army group headquarters had asked the French First Army to move out of the city, capital of Wuerttemberg, which the French captured.

At latest reports, the French still were there—backed by the French council of ministers which voiced disapproval of the request on grounds the Big Three had not taken any action on France's postwar occupation zone claims in southwest Germany.

The Sixth Army group includes the U. S. Seventh and French First Armies. It is commanded by Gen. Jacob L. Devers.

The French have asked for virtually outright occupation of the Saarland plus defined occupational and policing rights after the war on the whole cross-Rhine belt from the Ruhr to Lake Constance.

They take the position French military administration of Stuttgart serves to underscore that request. French officials regard the situation as timely, coming while world delegates are convened at San Francisco.

5th at Swiss Border

ROME, April 28 (AP)—Allied troops captured Bergamo—30 miles from the Swiss border and 125 from the Brenner Pass—and Brescia 30 miles southeast of Bergamo today, Allied headquarters announced, while a Milan broadcast declared U. S. forces had reached the Swiss frontier and entered Como.

The Milan National Liberation Radio said the Americans had cut off all northwestern Italy from exits to Germany.

A First Armored Division spearhead that seized the Ghedi airport, near Bergamo, in a 31-mile advance, moved on the field so fast a German sergeant assigned to blow the installations was captured before he could touch off a fuse.

On the Ligurian coast a special task force entered Pontremoli, 20 miles north of La Spezia.

Other Fifth Army troops smashed into Genoa. The Free Milan radio declared German commanders were endeavoring to negotiate a general surrender of their hopelessly trapped forces in northern Italy.

British Eighth Army units were mopping up isolated enemy pockets south of the Adige river, but met determined resistance.

Himmler Asks 2-Allies Peace

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Heinrich Himmler was reported today to have offered unconditional surrender to Great Britain and the United States, but Prime Minister Churchill in a special statement declared that only unconditional surrender to all three big powers would be accepted by the Allies. The prime minister neither confirmed nor denied reports surrender had been offered to the two western Allies, but not to Russia.

Churchill declared:

"It has been reported by Reuter's that unconditional surrender was offered by Himmler to Britain and the United States only. Further that Britain and the United States have replied saying they will not accept unconditional surrender except on behalf of all the Allies including Russia.

"No doubt at a time like this all kinds of reports of proposals for German surrender from various parts of the German Reich are rife, as these are in harmony with the enemy's desperate situation.

"His Majesty's Government have no information to give about any of them at this moment. But it must be emphasized that only unconditional surrender to the three major powers will be entertained, and that the closest accord prevails between the three powers."

Unofficial reports of a German unconditional surrender offer to Britain and the United States were published prominently in the British press today.

The Allied-controlled Luxembourg radio said Himmler had offered surrender and the offer had been rejected because Russia was not included.

There was no tendency to discount the possible authenticity of such reports. Although there was no denial that such an offer had come from inside Germany, neither was there official confirmation.

It was emphasized in strong terms neither Britain nor the United States has any intention of accepting any Nazi offer separately.

The London Evening Standard said: "Some sources here state discussions have gone so far as to take into consideration specific conditions, such as how soon the surrender of the 150,000 German troops in Norway and the laying down of arms by German garrisons trapped in various pockets, can be arranged."

Small Nations Challenge Big 4

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28 (AP)—More closely knit themselves, the Big Four managing this United Nations Conference today ran into a small nation challenge of a world organization dominated by major Allied war victors.

Spokesmen for Australia, Belgium and Bolivia urged more responsible roles for the world's smaller states.

Their action signalled the long expected effort to shift the balance between the great and the small.

One immediate success of this pressure was expansion of the Conference executive committee from 11 to 14 members. Now the small-state group aims at increasing the memberships on the World Security Council beyond the 11 proposed at Dumbarton Oaks.

As constituted by the 46-nation conference, the executive committee includes the Big Three, China and France, which are to have permanent security council seats, and these other countries: Australia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Iran, Mexico, Holland and Yugoslavia.

Restoration of harmony among the big powers brought the conference into its fourth day with prospects for success brightened by Russia's demonstrated willingness to compromise.

Some delegates even hoped for a reorganization of the Polish Warsaw government along lines acceptable to Britain and the United States. Whether it could be achieved in time for an invitation to be presented here was doubtful.

A session of the conference steering committee, which started out roughly enough, ended in a round of handshaking and backslapping yesterday.

It produced these quickly ratified solutions to issues which had given the conference on peace a belligerent start.

Through Russian insistence, the delegates tossed tradition out the window and elected four presidents instead of one—Molotov, Soong, Eden and Stettinius. It was agreed that these four should rotate the honor of presiding over conference sessions.

For the two sessions scheduled today, Soong drew the first and Molotov the second. Eden will have his turn Monday.

2—Under Anglo-American insistence, the steering committee refused to complicate management of conference work by

Arrest Brother Of Goebbels

U. S. FIRST ARMY, Germany, April 28 (AP)—Hans Goebbels, brother of the German propaganda minister and himself a high raking Nazi, was taken into military custody today by infantrymen.

The brother of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels was arrested at his home in the conquered Ruhr at Mitrath.

Goebbels had two suitcases packed when troops knocked at his door. He was meek and frightened.

He first denied any connection with the Nazi party, but later said he became a party member in 1929 and held a high position with the Reichsgruppe Insurance Co. in Berlin, a Nazi political plum job.

He said he had received no word from his brother since January.

U. S. Reiterates All-3 Surrender

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The White House press secretary said today it is "perfectly clear" there can be no unconditional surrender by Germany unless it is made to all the Allies.

Secretary Jonathan Daniels made this comment in connection with reports Himmler had offered to surrender to Great Britain and the United States, but not to Russia.

Daniels said he knew nothing about any surrender "proposals."

"This government," he repeated, "has nothing to say at this time. We all know there are and will be many rumors."

Asked whether President Truman's long conference yesterday with military chiefs had any bearing on the surrender rumors, Daniels replied:

"No, not specifically."

Stettinius Won't Discuss Nazis' Surrender Offer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28 (AP)—Secretary Stettinius refused to confirm or deny reports today that a German offer of unconditional surrender to the British and Americans was turned down because it omitted Russia.

"I'm sorry, old man," the secretary told a reporter, "but I can't help you on that."

"You refuse then, to either confirm or deny the report?" he was asked.

"I'm sorry. You ought to ask the President or Secretary Stimson about that," Stettinius replied.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British permanent under secretary of state, declared:

"I have had no such information," as the surrender offer.

Senate OPA Squeeze May Bring More Meat

By FRANK B. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, April 28 (INS)—The OPA, accused of putting a squeeze on the meat industry—today is in a squeeze itself. Price officials want the Price Control Act extended for a year from June 30 without amendment. But to get it, they face an "or else" ultimatum from Senators indignant about the meat situation.

Several weeks ago, the Senate banking committee voted tentatively to approve the extension without amendment. But a subcommittee was named to write a report.

Conferences with OPA officials began. Sub-committee members explained at first they were talking over the forthcoming report—that OPA didn't want it to be too critical.

But now committee members admit what has become increasingly apparent—that the committee is marking time and holding the amendment threat over OPA's head to compel it by administrative changes to correct the meat situation.

Sen. Wagner, New Dealer and generally a supporter of executive agencies in their clashes with Congress, disclosed today he is going along with the demand that OPA change its subsidy policies still further.

"I think there must be a further subsidy payment," he said.

Wagner's remarks were made following a conference with Sen. Thomas of Oklahoma, who has become a severe critic of OPA's meat policy and threatens to carry a demand for a change in its meat price personnel to President Truman.

But Wagner predicted: "The matter will be ironed out. It can be done without amendment. It's an administrative matter.

"I'm a great believer in a little time and conciliation," he added.

Freed Yanks Glad Nazi PWs Well Fed

CAMP KILMER, N. J., April 28 (AP)—With food and furloughs at the top of their request list, 1975 American soldiers freed from German prison camps arrived here by train today after disembarking from two transports at Staten Island.

The liberated Yanks said their treatment as prisoners had been "pretty tough." But laughing and wise-cracking, they tied into broiled steak, snow-flake potatoes, ice cream and cake—food they had not tasted since their capture last December—and they cheered themselves hoarse when Maj. Gen. Homer M. Groninger announced:

"It is my happy privilege to break to you the official news that once you reach your various relocation centers you will be given not a 21-day but a 60-day furlough."

All those interviewed said they were captured during the battle of the Ardennes bulge and liberated last Good Friday by fellow Americans. The Army had announced that they were freed by advancing Russian troops.

PFC Robert Moore, 24, son of actor Victor Moore, said he caught pneumonia in the Bad Orb prison camp and lost 30 pounds. "Only God pulled me through!" he declared.

"I'm glad of the way they treat Germans over here. That helped us a lot in German camps," said T-Sgt. William B. Bubuiser, 27, of Burlington, Vt.

"Two wrongs don't make a right," chimed in Sgt. Robert Brax, 22, New London, Ct. "If we want a lasting peace we've got to use humane methods."

Cpl. Edgar Denham of Marblehead, Me., said the group captured with him was forced to march three days without food or water. He lost 54 pounds.

Jazzy Garb Lures South Boston Lad of 10 on New York Adventure

When you've finally persuaded your father to buy you a Frank Sinatra jazz-bow tie, a cocoa-colored sports jacket, and brand new bright blue slacks, you want a bigger, jazzier city than Boston to show yourself off in.

That is why Ronald Paulsen, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Paulsen of E. Third st., South Boston, sneaked out the back door of his house last night and grabbed a bus for New York city.

Today suspicious bellhops at the Woodstock Hotel in New York called police when they caught the little dandy writing the following postcard:

"Dear Mom, I am all right. Please don't look for me at all. I will be all right. I am living with someone. Happy. P. S.—Goodby forever."

Police took him to the N. Y. Foundling Home, where his parents are picking him up tomorrow.

"He's called 'Happy' because he's so merry he's a rogue," said his father today.

"He told me yesterday that he deserved $1 for getting his name on the honor roll at Lincoln School for good behavior. I slipped him the money when he reminded me that his brother had been given $1 for being brave about having a tooth pulled.

Then in the dark of the night, he borrowed a few dollars from the pocket of his brother, George, 11, and made another touch from the wallet of brother William, 12, who slumbered peacefully.

His mother said he'd had a roving spirit ever since he bought his jazz-tie for Easter.

Last week he sneaked away at 4 a. m. and walked to Braintree.

"I just wanted to see life and things," he explained.

Rubin Holdup Arrest Made

Climaxing an investigation secretly for six months, a squad of Bureau of Criminal Investigation detectives early today arrested a 25-year-old Everett man as a suspect in the $2500 cash and jewelry holdup of the Associated Concessions Corp., office in downtown Tremont st. last Sept. 25.

RECOVERING — Suffering a serious back injury when she was involved in a coasting accident, Ann Blyth, screen starlet, is reported en route to Hollywood by ambulance today. The young actress will be in a cast for several months.

Victims of the holdup included Joe Rubin, former night club owner, now serving a state prison term for the shooting of a bartender, Guy Formica, of Plymouth, in front of his Show Time cafe. Others who were stripped of jewelry when two bandits took the corporation's cash were two office workers, Miss Shirley Maser, 24, of Dudley st., Roxbury and Miss Judith Young, 24, of Appleton st., Jamaica Plain.

Police said the two girls and four other men holdup victims would be asked to came to headquarters to identify the suspect in the lineup.

2 South Boston Boys Arrested In Wild Chase

Two South Boston boys, one an escaped inmate of the Shirley school, were being held in Nashua, N. H., today after their capture in a wild, early morning chase of an auto they allegedly had stolen in the South End.

The machine, property of Selectman Richard Henley of Canton, was taken from in front of a South End restaurant, where he had stopped last night to eat after attending the fights in Boston.

Nashua police reported by teletype to Boston that the boys had admitted trying to take a car in Roxbury before they found Henley's car and drove to New Hampshire.

They also had in their possession a jump wire used to start an auto without an ignition key, a special officer's badge of the Canton police, and a billfold.

Police said the billfold was taken from the car which the boys admitted having tried to steal in Roxbury.

Both boys gave addresses in East Sixth st., South Boston, and are being held at Nashua headquarters awaiting action by the Boston police.

John Murphy, 26, of Norwood, was found dead of gas poisoning in a Tremont st., South End, lodging house early today when a tenant, who smelled escaping gas, summoned police to break down the locked door.

The victim, discharged about a year ago from the Navy, was pronounced dead by Dr. Alfred Dalrymple of South Boston.

Manila-Born Child, 5 Defied Jap Orders

Manila-born Susan Marion Corliss, 5, whose life has been spent in a Jap prison since she was 18 months old, and her Roxbury parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Corliss, told of the horrors of the Santo Tomas concentration camp today on their first day back home.

Little Susan told how she had defied the Japs when they tried to make children as well as adults bow to them morning and night.

"I would never bow," the child said. Her father confirmed the girl's statement and told how he had to hide her to avoid trouble.

Haggard and weary after their war experiences, the family is staying at the Corliss home in Bennett st., Brighton. Corliss said the worst ordeal was from the time they were liberated last Feb. 3 until they were able to leave Manila March 19.

"The fight in Manila didn't stop with our liberation," he said, "and it hasn't stopped yet."

Mrs. Corliss added that the American people do not know yet what is going on in Manila.

"The Japanese have been plundering and killing and raping with regard for no one," she said.

When her husband, formerly in charge of appliance sales in the Philippines for International General Electric, entered the prison camp he weighed 213 pounds. He weighed 114 last month when he left the islands. Mrs. Corliss lost about 80 pounds.

About 200,000 government-financed permanent family dwellings will become surplus either during or after the war.

5500 Ordered To End Strike

DETROIT, April 28 (AP)—The regional War Labor Board today ordered immediate termination of a strike of 5500 workers at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. after an Army spokesman said the walkout had affected production in three other states.

Plans also went ahead for resumption of work in the aircraft division of the Packard Motor Car Co., where 16,000 have been idle because of an engine inspectors' strike.

AKRON, April 28 (AP)—Approximately 7000 employes of three Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plants and Goodyear Aircraft Corp. were idle today as spreading walkouts threatened to halt all tire building operations.

N. E. Gets 2-4 Inches Snow-Frost Tonight

Snow removal equipment, idle more than a month, was put to work today in several New England communities when a late April snowstorm left a fall ranging from two to four inches.

The heaviest fall was reported at Bennington, Vt., where four inches of wet, soggy snow hampered traffic and kept highway workers busy scraping and sanding main roads.

Pittsfield received two inches and several Berkshire towns were covered with a three-inch blanket.

G. Harold Noyes, weither bureau meteorologist, said northern Maine would have light snow tonight. He warned there would be light frost in the interior suburbs here.

He predicted continued cool for Sunday, with increasing cloudiness.

FREED GIS REACH U. S.

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Nearly 2000 GIs, prisoners of war in Germany and liberated by Russian armies, arrived in Staten Island today.

In the day's most sensational action, a British armored column sped 56 miles through southern Burma to within 62 miles of Rangoon. Against equally light opposition the U. S. 24th Division drove another 10 miles through the Apo mountains of Mindanao in the southern Philippines, within sight of Davao gulf. Japanese stubbornly defended mountain positions on three northern Philippine sectors.

Tokyo made no attempt to guess where the next U. S. amphibious blow might strike. Eighty transports, escorted by at least 30 warships, were reported in the Okinawa area.

A small force of Jap suicide planes attacked this fleet yesterday, sinking two cruisers, including the Savannah, and four transports, and a surface craft sank a submarine in the Southwest Pacific, Radio Tokyo claimed.

A hundred or more Superforts raided six enemy air bases on Kyushu island in Japan proper this morning for the third consecutive day. One B-29 was lost in yesterday's strike.

U. S. Seventh Division patrols crawled almost to the northern edge of Yonabaru airstrip on the east coast of southern Okinawa, while the 27th smashed to within striking distance of Machinato field on the west. The 96th took more high ground, making possible a final assault on both strips.

Five Jap tanks were captured and turned against the Nipponese on northern Luzon by the U. S. 25th Division. The enemy also used tanks against the 33rd in the nearby battle for Baguio. Supporting planes poured 730 tons of bombs on enemy cave and pillbox defenses in those two areas while other air units aided two more mountain-climbing divisions in central Luzon.

Sixteen enemy vessels, including a submarine, were hit by Southwest Pacific bombers, while the U. S. 14th Air Force in China supported Chinese ground forces and heavily raided enemy communication lines.

Nazi Prison Camp Appals N.Y. Editor

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Julius Ochs Adler, general manager of the New York Times, one of the newspaper executives surveying German atrocity camps, said today in a dispatch to the Times from Buchenwald, "What I have seen here is worse than any battlefield."

"In all, 32,705 people died here between July, 1937, and April, 1945," Mr. Adler declared. "Some were tortured and died under torture. Some were flogged to death. Some were strangled. Some were drained of their blood and murdered. Some died as a result of medical 'experiments.'

"I saw corpses piled in squares with 20 to 25 bodies in each square. They had starved to death. Their legs above the knees had shrunk to the dimensions of an average man's wrist. Their faces showed the agony in which they had died.

"German civilians in the area around the camp are fat and well-fed. The women still are wearing silk stockings. War has not touched them."

Russian Lyrical in Story of Linkup

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 28 (AP)—Another meeting across the Elbe river in the heart of Germany by new Russian and American divisions was reported today by a Soviet war correspondent, who gave the first eye-witness account of the historic linkup to be published here.

"I write these lines at night," reported the Soviet Union's ace war correspondent, Konstantin Simonov. "As I do so there comes new information that two more divisions have met.

"The joining of our forces and American forces on a vast front has become a fact. It is hard to say this solmn, grand thing. Simple words are needed."

Simonov gave this chronical description of the junction:

"A narrow gray line of the Elbe is all that separates the troops of Marshal Konev from the Americans—just 150 meters (164 yards) of sullen water. Between our troops and the British-American troops there is no more Atlantic fortress, no Siegfried line, no Hitler line. In other words, between us and the Allies there are no Germans—they are either killed or captured.

At this moment even the Elbe does not divide us. From the other bank a small swift boat is crossing with the comander of the 69th American Infantry Division, Maj. Gen. Emil F. Reinhardt, and his asistant, Brig. Gen. Marvest. On our bank they are met by the commander of the 58th Guards Rifle banner Krasnograd Division, Maj. Gen. Rusakov, surrounded by his officers.

"The boats swing into the bank. The Americans jump off lightly on to the sandbars. The general oficers of both Armies greet one another as fighting men. Great handshaking follows.

"No matter of what rank the fighters are who join together on this bank of the Elbe they are first of all soldiers and their handshakes are the handshakes of soldiers.

"When the Americans learned they had met the division which already defeated the Germans on the Volga near Stalingrad, their eyes showed the light of sincere respect for their colleagues, these brothers in arms.

"Stalingrad! It must be that this word now is pronounced with equal delight in almost all the languages of the world. In any case these Americans pronounced it with excitement and delight.

"After several minutes the Americans and our officers go arm in arm to a near-by house, where the first story-swapping is to take place. Cameramen hurry to encircle them like a wall. And even thees fellows who have seen all kinds of sights and who have cranked their cameras through thousands of meters of film are excited, and for several minutes forget their profession and stand there simply looking.

'This great fraternity of arms was born not today nor yesterday. It was born long ago on the banks of the Dnepr and Vistula and on the severe Norman coast, but today perhaps for the first time it is born geographically."

Moscow Enjoys Gaudiest Fete

MOSCOW, April 28 (AP) — Joyous Moscow hailed the meeting of the Russian and American armies with one of the gaudiest celebrations in its history last night.

Great crowds cheered in the streets, gunners fired rockets from the rooftops, revellers drank toasts in the hotels and restaurants, and by order of Premier Stalin 324 guns fired an earth-shaking 24-volley salute.

Muscovites heard the news over public loudspeakers in the streets.

The 5,400-horsepower Diesel freight locomotives of the ROCK ISLAND LINES pull 125 loaded freight cars—approximately 6,400 tons—at a speed of 70 miles per hour!

This is but one example of what ROCK ISLAND, one of America's railroads, is doing to establish outstanding performance records in the handling of war traffic... records never dreamed of, let alone approached, in the past.

We are proud that the progress we planned yesterday made us ready for today's big job... ready to perform a vital service in this war emergency. The Program of Planned Progress of the ROCK ISLAND LINES has been, and is, a continuing effort. It has held the railroad in a position of leadership and promises even greater development in future years.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow, ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

WORLD'S FIRST ALUMINUM BOX CARS!

Aluminum box cars are now in service on the ROCK ISLAND LINES. They are made of the same special high tensile aluminum alloy used in B-29 Bombers! "Dead weight" is reduced as much as 4½ tons per car. A train of 125 aluminum cars would reduce the weight of the train 562½ tons, with no reduction in the load carried. Another step in better railroading!

8 Girl Acrobats Fall 40 Ft.; 1 Hurt

NEW YORK, April 28 (INS)—Tragedy re-visited the Ringling Brothers, Barunm and Bailey Circus when a girl acrobat made a miscalculation and sent eight girls hurtling 40 feet from performing ladders to the Madison Square Garden floor.

Of the eight, who do a balancing act under the names of "The Galasso," one was hurt seriously—Angela Antalek suffered a broken right leg and internal injuries.

The accident occurred when the girls, atop twin ladders, formed a pyramid. The girl at the top swayed, rocked the entire team, and all eight fell.

Nazis Beat 3 French Girl PWs to Death

PARIS, April 28 (AP)—Three French girls were stripped and whipped to death in the presence of 250 American soldiers in a German prison camp, M. E. Walter, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle, member of the editors' party investigating German camps, said today.

Walter quoted Sgt. William Sandler, Kentuckian, who said he witnessed the murders and later saw the whips.

"The sergeant said the Germans had discovered the French women and the Americans were helping each other in the camp and were determined to halt it," Walter related. "The prisoners were assembled one morning and the women, all of whom were young, were lined up in front of them and forced to undress.

"German guards then took cat-o'-nine-tails and beat them until they died. The sergeant said it took only about 20 minutes."

Curzon Line Bounds Poland, Parley Rules

By EDWARD KLEINLERER AND PIERRE LOVING
Copyright, 1945, by International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28 (INS)—The United Nations Conference has guaranteed the inviolability of the Curzon line between Russia and Poland by recognizing White Russia and the Ukraine as separate republics, both Russian and Polish experts agreed in San Francisco today.

This was asserted by the Russians and rather sadly conceded by the Poles.

It is a little-mentioned fact that the Curzon Line forms the western boundary of the two small Soviet republics. All territory to the east of this line, the conference has said in effect, belongs to White Russia and the Ukraine forever. Their western neighbor, of course, is Poland.

Thus, the conference settled a controversy that has raged since the aftermath of the first World War. Its solution was seen at Yalta, where President Roosevelt grudgingly joined Prime Minister Churchill in accepting Stalin's demand of the Curzon Line as Russia's western boundary.

There is a memorable story told in State Department circles of how Stalin broke the news to Churchill and the late President that he would never drop his demand for recognition of the Curzon Line.

The trio was seated at the conference table when Stalin pulled a map of Poland toward him and drew the Curzon Line in pencil on it. Then, through an interpreter, he told his guests something like this:

"One of France's most distinguished statesmen, M. Clemenceau, and one of Britain's most distinguished statesmen, Lord Curzon, once declared that all the land east of that line is predominantly Russian and should belong to Russia. Who am I to go before the Russian people and tell them that a distinguished Frenchman and a distinguished Englishman lied in favor of Russian territory?"

That ended all dispute at Yalta about the Curzon Line.

having rotating chairmanships for the key executive and steering committees. Molotov finally agreed that Eden, Soong and he would delegate their authority to Stettinius for this job. That made the American Secretary in fact the chief of those committees.

3—The Russian proposal to include the White Russian and Ukrainian Soviets in the proposed world assembly of nations went through without a hitch. Stettinius endorsed it, under specific instructions from President Truman to carry out the pledge which President Roosevelt made to Premier Stalin at the Yalta Big-Three meeting.

4—A proposal made by Molotov to seat the present Warsaw government at this conference was talked down, outmaneuvered and finally smothered under a resolution, which the conference approved, telling the Big Three to settle their differences over Poland and expressing hope it would be done before this conference ends.

This is how it was handled as the delegates of 46 nations sat around a U-table in a conference committee room:

Jan Masaryk, Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia, raised the Polish issue with a statement of sympathy for the Polish people and the wish that they might be represented here.

Molotov thereupon proposed that the Warsaw government be invited to attend the conference.

Stettinius objected. He said that by assuring membership in the proposed world organization to the Ukraine and White Russia, Britain and the United States had kept the Yalta pledge. The pledge to reorganize the Polish government, he said, also should be kept.

Eden spoke heatedly along the same line, and Jan Christiaan Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, eloquently backed up the Anglo-American position.

Molotov, sensing the trend was against him, played for time by moving to refer the question to the executive committee.

At that point Foreign Minister Spaak of Belgium arose with his resolution of sympathy and hope. In the general round of acclaim over its adoption, Molotov's motion was forgotten.

An hour after the steering committee broke up, the conference went into a full dress session and Stettinius began calling the roll of delegates to speak for their countries.

Deputy Prime Minister Francis M. Forde of Australia drove into the heart of what promises to be the central controversy of the conference from here on—small nations versus big powers.

"The Dumbarton Oaks plan as it stands," he said, "bears many characteristics of a mere prolongation into the years of peace of a type of great power leadership that has been found necessary to win the war."

Foreign Minister Spaak of Belgium argued for a place for small nations more vital than that assigned them by the Dumbarton Oaks plan.

Denmark Sees June Liberation

By DANIEL DE LUCE

STOCKHOLM, April 28 (AP)—"Fortess Denmark" looms today as the weakest of all Nazi strongholds. Patriots confidently predict its liberation by June.

The task of clearing the enemy from the little homeland of nearly 4,000,000 Nazi-hating Danes falls upon Gen. Eisenhower's Allied Supreme Command. The tactical leadership will be supplied by Field Marshal Montgomery.

There is no indciation it will be an operation undertaken jointly with the Red Army. Just as overlapping offensive zones were carefully avoided in the Balkans, the same policy apparently has been formulated for Scandinavia.

PARIS (AP)—Hitler still has about 15 die-hard garrisons scattered in pockets in the corners of Europe.

He may have 100 divisions left in the southern sector, including what is left of Austria and Czechoslovakia. Observers say he cannot have more. Another 100,000 German troops probably still are in the occupied channel islands, French ports and Holland.

At Last--Hitler in the Zoo!

Nazi propaganda and Swedish sources still insisted Hitler was in Berlin today, but accounts of his whereabouts and activities varied, according to the Associated Press.

One version, quoting Swedish dispatches to London, placed Hitler at headquarters in a fortified underground hideout in Berlin's famed zoological gardens.

From Stockholm the Associated Press quoted the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet as saying Hitler had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and was near death inside Berlin.

Moscow ridiculed Nazi propaganda insistence that Hitler still was in the flaming, surrounded German capital.

German broadcasts admitted Russian troops were fighting in the Moabit section of the city and threatening the outer fringes of the zoological gardens where one report had Hitler entrenched.

In asserting "reliable circles" had reported Hitler near death from cerebral hemorrhage, the Svenska Dagbladet commented:

"It is believed an immediate announcement of Hitler's death would mean the mass capitulation of a great number of troops."

Lobster Industry Keeps Silence On Reason for Soaring Prices

By PAULINE WARREN

Stratospheric prices are being charged for lobsters, and digging into reasons why is a thorny assignment. Because the lobster industry, centered in Maine and Massachusetts, is now under investigation by several agencies, including the Dept. of Justice, it is impossible to elicit any information which can be proven by records from anyone in the industry.

Everyone is charming and wants to send free lobsters to an inquiring reporter, but when it comes to giving out figures no one wants to talk. Meanwhile, public grumbling becomes louder that the industry is a controlled market, or monopoly, and that prices are geared high because lack of ceilings enable dealers to play with prices as they choose.

The official figures of lobster poundage for this state for 1944, listed with the Mass. Division of Marine Fisheries, is 2,793,250 pounds, valued at $962,497.50. But all, including top government officials entrusted with the garnering of those figures, acknowledge they can't be correct.

Dealers give their totals under oath, but there is a wide discrepancy between the registered figures and the actual amount of lobsters moving through the state.

In addition to native Massachusetts lobsters, this state also received last year some 2,668,642 pounds of lobsters from Canada with a value of $658,049 and 7,250,000 pounds from Maine.

Sky-high prices are attributed to lack of ceilings and uncontrolled conditions in the market. Lobsters are a luxury item, and people today have plenty of money and don't seem to care how much a lobster costs.

When they can't get steak or chicken, they raid the markets for lobster, even if it sells at a dollar a pound whole.

Shelled lobster meat today is $4.50 and over a pound. True that it has always been expensive in this form, due to the labor involved, but not long ago lobsters, during the plentiful spring season, could be bought live for 30 or 35 cents a pound.

Strangely enough, prices paid lobstermen who do the actual fishing have not risen as high as rates paid to other fishermen. A haddock fisherman today can make $5000 a year and more, but a lobsterman is lucky if he makes $4000.

For several years the State Div. of Marine Fisheries, in conjunction with the Fish and Wild Life Service, has been liberating small lobsters on the South Shore. These are first propagated and reared at the Ten Pound hatchery in Gloucester at government expense in hope of increasing the supply.

But Maine last year had its best year in lobsters, with more than 14 million pounds caught, half of which was sold in Massachusetts. Yet prices still soared.

There are now about 1000 lobstermen fishing in Massachusetts, with most of them centered in Rockport, Marblehead and Plymouth. Each man sets out about 100 pots which have to be baited with such fish as flounders, redfish or herring.

But no matter how much they catch, the price remains beyond the reach of the average man's income. The real reason will be revealed only when the investigating agencies made their reports public.

Salvage Drive Tops All Records

Boston's April waste paper salvage drive topped all previous collection records, with 1,656,250 pounds, or 101,790 pounds more than the previous record established last October.

Wards 10 to 22 yielded 503,525 pounds, compared to 284,070 pounds last month. Ward 20, West Roxbury and part of Roslindale, again led every section of Boston, providing 264,100 pounds of waste paper and 35,100 pounds of scrap tin.

The West Roxbury-Roslindale district, which was competing with Brookline, furnished 340,100 pounds of paper. Results of the Brookline collection have not yet been announced.

Artificial Dive Breaks Record

MILWAUKEE, April 28 (AP)—Jack Browne, 28-year-old civilian diver, broke the world record for deep sea diving under artificial conditions today, when he attained a depth of 550 feet in a simulated dive.

The old record of 500 feet was set in a tank at the Washington Navy Yard by Navy Divers William Badders of Annapolis and J. H. McDonald of Las Animas, Colo., in August, 1938.

Browne made the test in a tank containing eight feet of water under pressure of 244.75 pounds per square inch. It took ten and one-half minutes to build up the pressure to approximate a deep sea dive of 550 feet.

Truce in Mill Walkout

LAWRENCE, April 28—A temporary truce under which 700 striking workers of the worsted division of the Pacific Mills will return to their duties Monday, pending further negotiation of their dispute, was reached today at a U. S. Conciliation Service conference.

The workers, whose walkout eventually would have affected 4600 employes of the mill, went on strike yesterday in protest against a management plan to transfer 72 idle looms to a plant acquired recently in Carrboro, N. C.

The management, whose entire production goes to the armed forces, obtained War Production Board permission to transfer the equipment last January, contending it was unable to obtain help to operate the looms in its Lawrence plant.

Army Bars Fascist Salute in PW Camps

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The War Department said today orders had gone out to all service commands forbidding prisoners of war in this country to use the "straight arm" Fascist salute. The standard American style salute is to be used instead.

The order also called for confiscation of all Nazi flags, pictures and emblems of all kinds except uniform insignia to which the prisoners are entitled.

Coal Heads Agree To Extend Contract

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Anthracite operators agreed today to a 30-day extension of their contract with the United Mine Workers, which expires Monday night, while the UMW announced it was "continuing to give the subject consideration."

Sec. Ickes had asked both groups to extend the present contract while negotiations of a new one continued, so as to avert the possibility of a work stoppage.

TIMOSHENKO CITED

MOSCOW, April 28 (AP)—Marshal Timoshenko was awarded the coveted Order of Sovorov today for "carrying out the assignment of the Supreme Commander-in-Chief in the cause of co-ordinating the activity of the Second and Third Ukrainian front armies."

2 U. S. Fliers In Own Linkup

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AN INFANTRY DIVISION IN GERMANY, April 28 (AP)—An artillery Cub plane has made an unorthodox linkup between Soviet troops and this veteran infantry division.

They veered southward along the Elbe river and spotted an unfamiliar troop formation.

Circling to establish the identity of this unknown force, they saw ground troops start to shoot at them and then hold fire at the sight of the gleaming white stars on the wings.

They flew down and the Russians began wildly waving white handkerchiefs for the Americans to land. Jubilant Russians surrounded the plane and began shaking hands all around with the two Yanks.

Proper Spacing Essential For Growth of Vegetables

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

Already some Victory Gardens are beginning to show a lack of knowledge of planting and planting distances. Sufficient space to allow for growth of crops is essential, but do not waste space by planting crops too far apart. Proper planting is also a factor in the control of insects and plant disease.

Plant small growing crops such as beets, onions, carrots, lettuce, chard and radishes, 12-14 inches between rows. Peas, beans, corn, cabbage, broccoli, 30-36 inches apart.

Vine crops and pole beans, tomatoes and large varieties of corn may need to be spaced 48-60 inches, depending on varieties.

Follow plans carefully to avoid mistakes which are hard to correct after the seed is planted.

One of the first early vegetables from the garden is rhubarb. This hardy perennial has started well this year and is now ready. Use it as a substitute for fruit and if you have any surplus it should be canned. The best quality rhubarb for canning is the early crop.

Do not work land when it is wet. This precaution should be taken by all gardeners, but especially those who are working land that is heavy or contains clay.

For gardeners who have had their soil tested and need lime, let me again suggest that you work the lime in thoroughly before planting the crop. Do not expect to get quick results from lime applied to the surface.

As soon as your first planting of spinach is up, side-dress it with a light application of nitrate of soda and cultivate it in. Also get the land ready for a second planting if you want a constant supply of greens. It is still a little too early to plant New Zealand spinach as the soil is cold and the seed will rot.

A $10,000 FINE OR TEN YEARS

A FAVORITE PHRASE at Washington —and one which indicates clearly that the New Deal is cemented together in all its disparate parts by a guiding philosophy—is the formula "$10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment."

Whenever a new bill, devised to create a new crime, is sent to Congress to be rubber-stamped for the statute books, it usually contains the words, "$10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment."

Any one having the time to delve into the tens of thousands of executive orders and bureaucratic "directives" which have been made a daily substitute for acts of Congress would be incurably depressed by the constant recurrence of the threat, "$10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment."

The stark Draconian penalty is prescribed in a bill which, Senator Ferguson of Michigan has discovered, was sent to Congress and was passed by the upper house in his absence, and which he caused to be restored to the Senate calendar for "reconsideration."

The thing about this bill that shocked Senator Ferguson, however, was not the extreme punishment which it proposed to inflict for something which is not now a crime, but the kind of action which it would make a penal offense.

The bill would forbid the disclosure by anybody—unless authorized by the White House—of any information received by any officer or agent of the government in any "coded message."

LOOKING ABOUT for an example of where the peculiarly constructed bill might apply, Senator Ferguson found one immediately.

If the surreptitious measure should become law, THE TRUTH ABOUT PEARL HARBOR could not be disclosed.

EVEN ADMIRAL KIMMEL AND GENERAL SHORT WOULD BE PREVENTED FROM TESTIFYING TO CONGRESS.

Senator Ferguson suspects that this may be the real reason why the bill was written.

Perhaps he is wrong. If so, the advocates of the mysterious bill should be able to prove it.

And they may have a chance—Senator Ferguson not only wants the Senate to reconsider the pending suppression-of-information bill, but also wants Congress publicly to ascertain THE FACTS about Pearl Harbor NOW.

VETERANS' JOBS

THE president of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Mr. S. Bruce Black, wants the men who have been wounded in the battles of this war to have all the employment they have earned and fully deserve.

Addressing policyholders at the company's annual meeting a few days ago, Mr. Black said:

"Failure to employ handicapped persons because of anticipated increases in insurance costs is not justified by the records of employers who have hired and properly placed them.

"There is no indication that losses are increased when injured workers are fitted into proper jobs.

"We see no reason why our experience in restoring injured workers to useful employment cannot be applied successfully to the restoration of war-wounded service men."

Mr. Black's statement should carry great weight throughout business and industry, for the organization he heads is one of the largest writers of workmen's compensation insurance in the world.

And it most certainly should induce employers everywhere to take back the provenly good Americans whose sacrifices in this war have made possible the continued existence of all activities founded on free private enterprise.

Which many a night has been witness to
Our sweet love-madness.

LIGHTING: Clothing material doesn't look the same in daylight as under artificial light. Therefore, clothing stores should have places where customers can see how the suits they are interested in look in the daylight. Furniture looks different under different kinds of lighting. So it often happens when furniture is put in the living room it seems to have a different color than in the store. All furniture stores should have amber-toned lighting in their salesrooms.

"I just wanna see if I been missin' anything!"

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, April 28—One of the things the august members of the Senate found hardest to swallow was the tacit presumption of nearly everyone who mentioned the subject that Happy Chandler of Kentucky had soared far upwards in importance when he went from the Senate to the baseball commissionership.

Sen. Chandler

You might think that after all this time the feelings of the Senators would be assuaged but they are still moaning and groaning about it. Ever so often one of them brings up the matter of Chandler and the bile starts to flow.

The Senators are not jealous of Happy's new-found wealth. They are merely concerned by the seemingly unanimous agreement that the highest law-making body in the land is second in importance to a ball game.

Sen. Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico, one of Happy's warmest friends, commented:

"It is not that the baseball commissionership pays $50,000 a year and a senatorship only $10,000. Many important jobs in America pay less than jobs of little or no consequence to the country. For instance, nobody complains because a movie star receives more pay than the Secretary of State.

"No matter what the wages are, the duties of the Secretary of State are still recognized by one and all as being of more importance to the country than mugging in front of a camera.

"The salary angle there is only incidental.

"But—the Happy Chandler thing was entirely different. Not only did everyone know that Happy was going to make five times as much money in his new job, but they seemed to say in effect that his new job was five times as important."

★ ★ ★

SENATOR HATCH said he did not believe this type of thinking existed a decade ago. He recalled that shortly after he came to the Senate in the fall of 1933, an old friend of the family, Ed Minick, postmaster of Eldorado, Okla., dropped in for a visit.

The elderly postmaster congratulated the solon for having gotten along so far in the world. Then he shook his head and murmured:

"Carl, if anyone had told me you had come to Washington as one of those baseball-playing Senators I would not have been surprised because you were a right smart hand in a ball game. But when I heard that you were here as one of those voting Senators I was astounded as all get-out!"

★ ★ ★

SENATOR HATCH said that unless America got over this muddied and distorted thinking, the national regard for democracy's greatest bulwark—the Congress—would suffer beyond measure.

"It might even get to the point," he said, "that when a ball player's batting average dropped they would talk of trading him to the Senate!"

SENATOR WALTER GEORGE of Georgia was presiding at a session of the Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Civil Aviation. They were discussing an international civil aviation treaty.

Before adjourning, Senator George looked around the conference room and said:

"Is there anyone here in opposition to this treaty?"

The question brought no response. Senator George waited. Finally with a note of mock disappointment he pleaded:

"Surely there must be somebody against this treaty!"

It seems there wasn't.

REP. EDITH NOURSE ROGERS of Massachusetts is very active in the Congressional movement to create a separate department of veterans' affairs with cabinet status.

She went over to the Veterans' Administration the other day to discuss plans with Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines. Still engrossed with the subject, she left Gen. Hines' office and rang for the elevator. When the lift arrived, the operator asked her if she wished to go down.

"No," said Mrs. Rogers, absentmindedly, "up!"

"Sorry, madam," said the operator, politely, "but you'll have to build. You're on the top floor!"

HOLLYWOOD, April 28—If Charles Dickens were to step down from Heaven and choose a "Little Nell" for "Old Curiosity Shop" he'd probably name Peggy Ann Garner as his idea of what that beloved character should be.

Peggy Ann Garner

Well, that's what is in Darryl Zanuck's mind. He is planning to make "Old Curiosity Shop" in technicolor with Peggy Ann and Roddy McDowall. You know Roddy is also right to play this favorite of all the Dickens classics.

Not so long ago, after I wrote that "Ben Bogeaus planned to do "The Life of Charles Dickens," a top literary light in town who shall be nameless, said: "This generation is not a reader of Charles Dickens' novels." Having loved all Dickens' characters, "Oliver Twist," "David Copperfield" and the rest, I did a little private checking. Dickens is going as big as ever at the public library.

THERE'S BEEN a lot of talk that Henry Blanke had caught the roving eye of other studios. Well, no more! Blanke is signed, sealed and delivered to Warners and I am told he is virtually to have the place once occupied by Hal Wallis. In other words, he'll pick and choose his own pictures pretty much as he pleases. I understand that Jack Warner has made the same type of offer to Michael Curtiz. Mike could go to any studio he wants, but an Egyptian mummy has nothing on him for silence as to his plans—he just isn't talking.

WILLIAM RANKIN, who was out of circulation for two years while he was in the Marines, is very much back in the picture again. He has just sold "The Champagne Story" to Vincent Youmans for a New York musical which is later to be made into a motion picture.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: If all these biographies written by Louis Calhern's ex-wives keep hitting the bookstands, he will be the most publicized husband in the world. Natalie Schafer, once married to him, is now writing her autobiography, "I Have Been Chaste Around the Best Tables." We hope Louis gets a better deal with Natalie than he did with Ilka Chase, one of his ex's, in "Fast Imperfect." She really took him apart. Perhaps he can tell a few things himself when he writes his memoirs.

I THINK it's interesting that the Puppertoon creater, George Pal, will deviate from his usual schedule and make a new series based on American folklore. The first introduces John Henry, 12 feet tall and five feet wide giant, and will be called "John Henry and Inky-Pooh." This sounds like something the kids will love as well as the grownups. I am told they have been taken from the M-G-M radio program, "M-G-M Screen Tests," which has been discontinued. The authors, Latham Ovens and Robert Monroe, have been working hard to get them together.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Heaven help Edna Rush and Jimmy Dunn! They're looking for a house, and in this town it's just out of the question; Bob Hope, who is back from San Francisco, made no social appearances while there. All his extra time was spent visiting the hospitals; Irene Manning arrived in town today to talk over her divorce with Keith Kolhoff, or Keith King shall we say, since he has changed his name; Is Ann Miller going to marry Vincent Fotre—or is she? They were devoted the other evening at the Beverly Tropics, but I have seen her out with plenty of other escorts; Faye Emerson and Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt are spending the week-end at Charlie Morrison's house in Palm Springs. Faye is due back Monday for her picture at Warners; it is unfortunate that it was printed that Kent Smith has been honorably discharged from the Army and is going to make a motion picture. Kent is still very much in the Army and expects to remain there; the Ice Capades brought out a big gathering. Sonny Tufts was mobbed by autograph seekers.

NEW YORK, April 28—Glenda Farrell's Army doctor husband, Lt. Col. Henry Ross, has been made a chevalier by the French government for his efforts in halting a typhus epidemic in France . . . Jane Fox, widow of "Big Frenchy" and briefly Mrs. George Herrick, is the bride of Abraham Cohen, sportsman, after a Florida divorce from Herrick . . . Lucien LeLong, the Parisian couturier, is slated to blast the Seventh ave. dress industry as "copycats" when he arrives on these shores. The New York fashion moguls, who are supposed to weep when they hear this, are all set to laugh.

The Little Church Around the Corner reports that Judy Garland and Vincente Minelli have made no plans to be married there—as reported by the wire services. And they won't be able to have a "Little Church" ceremony, because Judy divorced David Rose on grounds of "incompatibility," which the "Little Church" does not recognize.

Joe Louis dated his divorced wife, Marva Trotter, every night he was in Chicago . . . Rumors persist that Sol Hurok may dissolve the Ballet Theater at the end of the current season . . . Boston After Dark EXCLUSIVE (but of main interest to housewives): A Back Bay market which does a huge business has inaugurated a policy of doling out all meats on the basis of 50 per cent of the allotment used prior to April 15 by its customers . . . Charge accounts and clerks have been checked, and the policy is in effect already . . . Meantime, amid a raging black market which has converted hundreds of retailers into black marketeers, store owners throughout Greater Boston are attempting to put this "50 per cent prior usage" policy into effect . . . But they have applied to government sleuths—in several pioneer cases—to help them in finding leaks among their working personnel . . . The twist to the item is that the agents have begun quietly to check some of the owners who appealed for help.

THE BILLING OF "Memphis Bound" is interesting . . . Vinton Freedley, the successful theatrical producer with a Harvard background (as a Harvard Dramatic Club actor), first brought the idea of doing "H. M. S. Pinafore" as a streamlined, jived-up musical to John Wildberg . . . The notion interested Wildberg . . . And, in a collaboration, Freedley and Wildberg got around to discussing casting, pulling the Hollywood and Broadway lists for white actors who could play the roles . . . Wildberg became discouraged . . . Having had a large success with "Anna Lucasta," which was written originally for a cast of pale-faced players but became a hit with an all-colored cast, Producer Wildberg came up with the idea of doing "Pinafore" with all Negro players.

★ ★ ★

IT WAS POINTED OUT to him that the idea of doing Gilbert and Sullivan with colored players had been tried with two major editions of "The Mikado," both with colored casts . . . But Jawn stuck to his notion . . . Mr. Freedley was willing to try the experiment, but he accepted it for its commercial possibilities . . . In short, he did not wish the use of the Freedley name in connection with the project.

★ ★ ★

THINGS THEREUPON began to happen . . . The first audition for players for "Memphis Bound" brought down to Manhattan from Harlem the very best talent of the colored artists . . . Then Bill Robinson, Avon Long and Ada Brown all became interested, and accepted assignments . . . Mr. Freedley began to see the light . . . That is why the billing of "Memphis Bound" is interesting . . . The advertising will read: "John Wildberg presents Vinton Freedley's production of 'Memphis Bound,'" when it opens in Boston Thursday.

A CERTAIN LADY from Roxbury is no lady—not in the images of appreciative taxicab "fares" which the minds of the drivers from the Boston Taxi Co. conjure up from their nightly reviews of the day's doings . . . She was so upset, this lady, at the loss of a pocketbook holding one $100 bill, another of $50, and assorted smaller ones, that she had something approaching a "heart attack."

★ ★ ★

THEN CAME the incredible news from the Boston's headquarters that the money and the pocketbook had been turned in by one of the drivers . . . The heart attack ended suddenly, and the driver was rewarded—or what you may call it—with the knowledge that one of his passengers did not die after reporting that she had ridden in a Boston cab . . . Nothing—not even thanks—came his way.

Legion Head Appeals For Intolerance Ban

State Com. Thomas F. Mackey of the American Legion today appealed to all Legionnaires and patriotic American citizens to help "stamp out the bonfires of religious and racial hatred."

His appeal was prompted by receipt of anti-Semitic pamphlets from a resident of Portland, Ore., and the Legion leader urged persons receiving such literature to consign it promptly to the waste basket.

My Day -:- By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Friday—The Congressional committee now visiting concentration camps in Germany are viewing things which we at home find it difficult to take in. The horror-filled pictures and stories which we have been getting day by day in our various newspapers make one shudder.

The sufferings inflicted on war victims is cruel enough. But one also wonders what must have been done to a people who are willing to inflict such suffering.

I read that one of our men, who had been a prisoner of the Germans and who is now back in this country, laughed when it was suggested that the townspeople near one of these camps did not know what was going on.

He pointed out that there was constant communication between the camp and the town, and that it would have been impossible for the people of the town to be oblivious of what was happening.

It is therefore not just a question of soldiers obeying orders. It is a question of civilians reaching such a state of servitude that they accepted without protest whatever happened to other human beings.

★ ★ ★

NO WONDER we are concerned about what kind of government and education shall be carried on during the occupation period.

None of us can achieve much that is worth while unless we understand what happened to these people; and I am frank to say that, for me, it is still a complete mystery.

I went to school with German girls, I have known German men and women. The military caste always seemed to me obnoxious, both as travel companions and as passersby on the street. But the average human beings in Germany seemed just like other people.

The Nazi regime, the SS and the Gestapo, of course, provide an obvious explanation. But how could they have become entrenched without the people being aware of what was happening? That is the really terrifying question.

One wonders if other people could be fooled in the same way, and one longs to know how to prevent its happening anywhere to any people ever again.

★ ★ ★

OUR MEN WHO have been prisoners of war, and who have seen these horrors which we read about, will have lost some of that confidence in their fellow human beings which is part of the heritage of every American citizen.

It will take time to make them believe again that predominately people have good intentions, and I don't think they will be patient with talk which does not materialize into action.

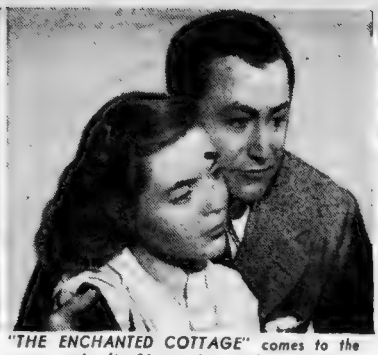
THE FIVE-YEAR-OLD "Springfield Plan" of practical democracy has been given a stirring screen salute in Warners' featurette, "It Happened in Springfield," due at the Met on Thursday.



"THE ENCHANTED COTTAGE" comes to the screen again after 21 years in a modernized version with Robert Young and Dorothy McGuire co-starring. It will open on Keith Memorial screen on Tuesday.

BOSTON friends will be glad to find Charles Gordon in a starring role in "The Vampire's Ghost," opening Wednesday at the Trans-Lux.

"SECRETS OF A MODEL," starring Cheryl Walker, tattle-tales on Hollywood, according to the advance story from the Globe where it opens tomorrow.

'The Enchanted Cottage' At Keith's on Tuesday

"The Enchanted Cottage," Harriet Parsons' first production for RKO Radio, is to have its local premiere on Keith Memorial screen on Tuesday. It is the modernized screen version of the play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero co-starring Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Herbert Marshall.

Miss Parsons, in the East for yesterday's Broadway premiere of her production, picked "The Enchanted Cottage" because of its pertinance to our times, deciding that a modernized treatment of the theme of the returned soldier gave the play timeliness without the necessity of altering its basic love story.

Eleven years ago, while associate editor of a movie magazine, Miss Parsons was asked by Columbia Pictures to take over "Screen Snapshots," a newsreel dealing with the activities of film personalities, and her career as a producer was launched. She is the daughter of Hearst columnist Louella O. Parsons, widely syndicated Hollywood authority whose column appears in this newspaper

Richard Dyer-Bennet, the 20th century minstrel, will pause in a country-wide concert tour to give a concert in Symphony Hall tomorrow at 3:30

"Secrets of a Model," starring Cheryl Walker in a sensational story about beautiful girls and check-writing wolves of Hollywood, is to be seen on the Globe Theater screen, starting tomorrow . . . Valerie Parks, burlesque's Personality Girl, heads the current stage show at the Old Howard, Miss Parks generously shares the spotlight with another looker, Thea Cockrell, and comics Sammy Smith and Bert Carr.

Charles Gordon, familiar to Boston and neighboring "straw-hat" audiences, has been discovered by Hollywood and will be seen on the Trans Lux screen, starting Wednesday, as the romantic lead in Republic's thriller, "The Vampire's Ghost."

Pops Begin 60th Season Tuesday

Next Tuesday night at Symphony Hall the Pops will begin their 60th anniversary season This season will be the 16th with Arthur Fiedler as the popular conductor of Boston's famous spring and summer concerts. There will be the usual orchestra of symphonic proportions and programs ranging from the popular classics to the hit of the moment, further interest being added by the appearance of soloists.

Refreshments will be served at the tables which cover the floor of Symphony Hall. Guest conductors to appear at the invitation of Mr. Fiedler are Stanley Chapple, who will lead the program on Friday, and Paul Charkassky, who will conduct the second part of Saturday's concert.

Wedding Gowns of Grace

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

TODAY'S BRIDE says yes to a whirlwind courtship . . . and seldom goes to the limit in elaborate wedding pomp . . . but she wants to say "I do" as did her grandmother and her great-grandmother . . . in a lovely, long white wedding dress. The time of year no longer has anything to do with the matter . . . according to New York's famed designers of bridal gowns. All the tradition usually associated with winter ceremonies is in the air for spring and summer . . . even in the south . . . which explains the unusual number of classic wedding gowns in this season's collection.

Whether you're a May, June, July or August bride . . . you'll be a dream-girl picture in merry, matrimonial and traditional white . . . in any of the pictured bridals

Some of the dresses are creamy satin . . . traditionally trained and trimmed with eyelet organdy or lace. Other dresses are similarly fashioned . . . with fitted basque waists and very full skirts . . . in such sheer, cloudline fabrics as ninon, mousseline de soie, net, marquisette or organza, or in a combination of lace and net, satin and net, or chiffon and lace.

RHUMBA RUFFLES

Southern Belle influence is strong . . . coming right out of New York's smart musical, "Bloomer Girl" . . . and complete, in some dresses, with hoopskirt and bonnet headdresses. Several designers are featuring rhumba ruffles, starting at the waistline and extended to the shortest and fullest of trains. There is a lot of back interest in many gowns . . . either in skirt fullness or in bustles . . . and just as much front interest in peplum and apron effects.

Spring's midriff emphasis is interpreted in bridal gowns in such dresses as an ephemeral white chiffon with billowing sleeves cuffed at the wrist . . . and a very wide inset of corded lace scalloped around the waist. Off-shoulder bodices and bertha necklines add a picturesque note to a number of dresses of the heirloom type . . . with long, tight sleeves finished in a point over the hand. Although the majority of sleeves are full or bracelet length . . . some are short . . . and good-looking, too.

VEILS OF FINE NET

The favored headdress of the spring and summer bride is the very full fingertip veil of fine net . . . falling from a little circlet or bonnet or pancake of fluted net . . . or a headdress to match her gown, in organza, lace or chiffon.

It isn't only the bride this season . . . but frequently her attendants as well who are "all dressed in white" . . . and a prettier picture is scarcely imaginable. The attendants' dresses are often of the same fabric and styling as the bride's . . . with the difference of a pastel or bright sash tied in a bow at the back and falling in streamers to the hem. Or in the bouquet that is carried . . . each attendant holding a different-colored floral splash in the crook of her arm. The effect couldn't be more dramatic or stunning.

Soft, springlike shades of maize, aqua, blue and pink make other bridesmaids' dresses . . . the majority in net or marquisette . . . and when this is done the bouquet of flowers is the same for all.

This season the happiness of a lifetime, symbolized in the charming and full wedding scene, is reflected in the return to traditional bridal gowns . . . of feminine, appealing, white,

PINAFORE wedding dress in white net . . . ruffled over the shoulders, on the panel front and all around the train, is interesting treatment of the traditional gown. The bride's veil of net falls in tiers from a wreath of orange blossoms . . . and she carries roses. Her attendant is dressed in yellow net fashioned with a shepherdess midriff . . . and both are featured by the New York Dress Institute.

TRADITIONAL loveliness is reflected in this "wasp-waist" taffeta bridal gown designed by Norman Norell . . . reminiscent of grandma's wedding days with its leg-of-mutton puffed sleeves. The fingertip veil of fine net . . . caught up on the top of the head with sprigs of lillies-of-the-valley . . . ritual flowers for a bride . . . is graceful foil for the dress.

PERT YOUTH backgrounds this sheer white organdy bridal gown . . . styled with a longfitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Short puffed sleeves and flattering neckline are edged with a ruffle trim of eyelet embroidered organdy . . . and the waistlength veil of bridal illusion is caught into a rosette at either side. Warner Star Dolores Moran models this youthful wedding garb.

INSPIRED by the doublet and fashioned in pale yellow bengaline and net . . . this New York designed spring bridal gown can be used for dancing hours later in the season . . . after the ceremonial knot has been tied. With attendants similarly garbed . . . the effect would be that of a sunburst.

You Must Write

If you don't write to your friends in the service, it's really as if you were saying to them, "I don't want to talk to you." Are you willing to have them think this?

Some Tasty Meat-Shy Meals

By MARTHA LEE

SINCE WE SHALL have less meat during the coming month, and shall have to give up more points on what we are able to get, meal planners will have to work harder than ever to make a little seem a lot. But when fresh meats are scarce, homemakers can keep meal interest high with the aid of tasty varieties of savory sausages and luncheon meats, and some of the good canned meats. There will be no change in the point values of these items at present.

Let us give you a few suggestions for tasty meat-shy meals:

BIT O' MEAT MUFFINS

1 cup sifted enriched flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt 1 egg
2 tbsp. melted shortening
½ tsp. horseradish 1 cup milk
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
¼ lb. diced salami (¾ cup)
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg and add milk, melted shortening, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce, salami, and eggs. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Fill greased 3-inch muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 deg. F.) 20 minutes. Serve hot. Makes six 3-inch muffins. These full-flavored muffins make ideal companions for spring garden salads.

POLKA DOT GRIDDLECAKES

1 cup sifted enriched flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt ¼ tsp. dry mustard
1 egg 1¼ cups milk
2 tbsp. melted shortening
¼ frankfurters

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and mustard. Beat egg slightly and add milk and shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Cut frankfurters crosswise in ¼ inch slices. Pour griddlecake batter on hot griddle, allowing a scant ¼ cup batter for each griddlecake. Arrange frankfurter slices on batter. Turn griddlecakes, browning well on both sides. Serve piping hot with asparagus in cheese sauce.

ASPARAGUS IN CHEESE SAUCE

¼ cup margarine or butter
¼ cup enriched flour
1 tsp. salt ¼ tsp. pepper
2 cups milk
¾ cup grated American cheese
1½ cups cooked asparagus, cut in 1-inch pieces

Melt margarine or butter and add flour, salt, and pepper, stirring constantly. Add milk gradually, stirring until mixture thickens. Add cheese. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Fold in asparagus. Make sandwiches of 2 griddlecakes per serving, pouring sauce between cakes and over them. Makes 5 servings.

TASTY TUCK-AWAYS

1 cup sifted enriched flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt ¼ tsp. dry mustard
1 egg 1 cup milk
2 tbsp. melted shortening
3 slices large bologna
1 hard cooked egg
¼ cup grated American cheese

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and mustard. Beat egg and milk and melted shortening. Fill greased 3-inch muffin pans 2-3 full. Cut slices of bologna in halves. Cut hard-cooked egg lengthwise into 6 equal sections. Roll halves of bologna slices around egg sections. Press a bologna roll-up into each muffin. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Serve hot. Makes six 3-inch muffins.

LaMotta Noses Lytell In Stirring Garden Bout

By JACK CONWAY

JAKE LAMOTTA, throwing every punch at his command in the sensational 10th round, just got up to win by a nose over Bert Lytell before 8684 thrill-stirred fans at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden.

The decision of Referee Tommy Rawson and Judge Eddie Curley didn't meet the approval of many of the fans who thought Lytell had piled up enough points to win. Judge Jim Carrig cast a dissenting ballot for Lytell.

Jake LaMotta

It will take a return bout to determine whether LaMotta or Lytell is the better fighter. Over a longer route, LaMotta would probably win in more convincing style than he did at the Garden.

Lytell, on the short end of 4-1 betting at ring time, would have walked out of the ring a winner if he had not tired in the last three rounds. Going into the eighth session Lytell had a commanding lead. His boxing skill and ability to score with stinging jabs had LaMotta in serious trouble.

The difference in weight, LaMotta scaled 160¼ pounds against 153 pounds for Lytell, then began to tell. LaMotta kept cutting down the big lead that Lytell had piled up in the earlier sessions.

By the time the 10th round opened LaMotta was almost even with Lytell. All the latter had to do to win was to get an even break in the final session.

Instead of standing up and boxing, as he had in the earlier rounds, Lytell backed away and flicked with his right hand in an attempt to keep LaMotta off balance. He couldn't slow Jake down much with his flicking blows.

LaMotta charged to close quarters, ripped heavy blows to the body, and on two occasions drove jarring left hooks to the jaw. LaMotta won the round by a wide margin and this gave him the nod.

This writer's score card showed Lytell winning the first, second, fourth and fifth rounds and holding LaMotta even in the sixth. Jake had the margin in the third, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds.

The Massachusetts boxing rule that gives special points for aggressiveness, even though a boxer misses punches, worked in LaMotta's favor as some of his best blows circled Lytell's neck.

★ ★ ★

Lytell's Baffling Style

LYTELL'S baffling southpaw style gave LaMotta plenty of trouble. Half way through the first round LaMotta started boxing southpaw himself in an effort to combat Lytell's style. He later went back to orthodox boxing, but on numerous occasions late in the bout boxed southpaw.

LaMotta made an open admission of how Lytell was bothering him when in the fifth round, Jake stopped and motioned for Lytell to come in and fight. LaMotta at the time was getting dizzy trying to keep up with the shifty Lytell.

It reminded me of the time in Chicago when Jack Dempsey was unable to catch up with Gene Tunney, after the latter got up from the canvas, and he motioned for Gene to come on and fight. I always considered this as an admission by the old Manassa Mauler that he was beaten.

LaMotta, however, soon got back to fighting, and did better the longer the bout progressed.

Detroit Judge Rules Horse Racing Illegal

DETROIT, April 28 (AP)—Circuit Judge Guy A. Miller ruled horse racing at the Detroit Fair Grounds unconstitutional today and a fight before the State Supreme Court was immediately assured.

Judge Miller's decision held Michigan's 1933 law creating a state racing commission unconstitutional and ruled that parimutuel betting in effect at the track was a violation of criminal statutes against lotteries.

Attorneys for the state and for the Detroit Racing Ass'n which operates the Fair Ground track announced they would appeal from the ruling.

GRANTS INJUNCTION

Judge Miller granted an injunction to Edward J. Rohan, his wife, Josephine, and a group of owners of other property adjacent to the track, restraining the state racing commission and the Detroit association from operating the Fair Grounds track or any other track.

An appeal to the Supreme Court automatically would stay execution of any penalty for violating the injunction pending a Supreme Court decision. Thus, if the nation-wide ban on racing should be lifted the Detroit track would be able to operate, unless Judge Miller's decision had been upheld in the meantime by the higher court.

The court ruled that gambling at the track violated a Michigan constitutional ban against lotteries, that operation of the track was a public nuisance, that the barns violate Detroit's building and fire codes and that the Racing Ass'n's lease from the State is void because the Fair Grounds are reserved for public use.

In his decision Judge Miller wrote:

JUDGE'S DECISION

"The state and the association ask this court to say that the state may legalize horse racing and gambling and regulate and control the same, and share in the profits.

"Such a ruling would have momentous results.

"It would permit the state to engage in any private business.

"It would declare gambling a lawful business.

"It would mean there could be no legal impediment to a legal monopoly of all other forms of gambling by the state. The state could run roulette wheels and numbers games and the like, or take over Briggs Stadium (home of the Detroit Tigers American League baseball team) and Olympia (home of the Detroit Red Wings National League hockey team) and install gambling."

Baker Tries Shifting Lineup in Final Bid

By HUCK FINNEGAN

PHILADELPHIA, April 28—When you can't find a pitcher who can start and finish a game, and when your 3-4-5 men aren't hitting, your club isn't going to fare well in A. L. competition. And so it has been with the Red Sox, who have dropped eight running to the Yanks, A's, Nats and A's again.

What to do about it? There isn't much you can do about the pitching, but you can change your 3-4-5 men, and that's what Del Baker did today as the Sox behind Rex Cecil tested the A's behind Don Black.

Baker dropped Pete Fox from the No. 3 slot to No. 5, raised Metkovich from No. 6 to No. 3, Tobin slipping to No. 6. Thus today's batting order read: Newsome, Steiner, Metkovich, Johnson, Fox, Tobin, Culberson, Garbark and Cecil.

Fox took third strikes twice against Niggeling in Washington with a man on base each time. That isn't like Pete. And in Friday's game against the A's he got the ball out of the infield only once. That was when Peck muffed his fly with three on in the seventh. (The Sox went on to lose 5-3.)

Fox hasn't been the only offender, however. Johnson fanned with men on third and second in Washington, hit into a double play with three on here when a base hit would have given the Sox the game. But Johnson has rifled a couple of doubles which makes you think he's liable to explode any minute.

Nor has Tobin hit a lick. One handle hit is the only thing he has to show for two games on the road.

Metkovich, on the other hand, has acted as if he's out of the slump that engulfed him in New York and Boston. In Washington he hit Niggeling as if he owned him. And though he got no base hits in Friday's game here he hit the ball harshly.

"Never saw anything like it in my 33 years in the game," Baker admitted today. "Of course, we have no 'stopper' (by "stopper" he meant a Hughson or a Feller). And we haven't been hitting. But I never did see such dumb baserunning in all my career. That's hurt us as much as any other thing."

Two brief examples: Newsome opens the third with a single and Steiner walks. Fox fans on the hit-and-run, and Steiner, thinking the play is at third, holds up to watch it, is thrown out at second by Hayes from here to there. That's one of Hayes' pet plays.

Bases full in the seventh, Newsome on second, Steiner on first. Fox flies to Peck who muffs the ball, and Bucher scores from third, but Newsome, instead of being halfway, goes back to tag up, gets only to third and almost causes Steiner to be caught between bases. Only one out at the time, too.

It's been like that all along and some of the other boys haven't been guiltless either. Perhaps a couple of fines would remedy things.

Baker is delighted with Garbark's receiving—and hitting. He's first string . . .

Boston Schoolboys In Golf and Tennis

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Boston schoolboys will be swinging into their new programs—in golf and tennis—next week and the local municipal courses will be flooded for the remainder of the season as the kids take over privileges that have long been their due.

This new program, as set up by the commissioners, Director Joe McKenney, Bill Ohrenberger and Jimmy Duffy, will have every kid in the school ranks in some line of sports—if the kids want.

Tennis courts in public playgrounds throughout the city are being resurfaced . . . that should inspire the kids to go at this newly-introduced sport in a big way . . . then, the gates of Franklin Park and George Wright golf courses will be thrown open . . . thanks to the then Mayor Maurice Tobin, the City Council, and Park Commissioner William Long . . . it may take a few weeks before the boys are good enough to step onto the courses, but at least the door has been opened for them.

Right away, the question of golf balls has popped up . . . but McKenney is fully prepared with an answer . . . the city's golfers only have to turn in their old balls and they'll be issued new ones—recovered—to replace the defaced agates . . . they'll have to supply their own clubs . . . interschool matches will be arranged when the teams are ready.

Cecil, Black Mound Rivals

By HUCK FINNEGAN

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, April 28—Butch Nieman hit a home run against the Phillies today just as the Red Sox were taking the field against the A's.

It seemed to buoy their hopes of landing their first victory of the season.

"If the Braves can win, we can," the Sox vowed. "We've got to win a couple, in fact, or they won't let us back in Boston. Up and at 'em."

Del Baker named Rex Ralston Cecil as the starting pitcher. It was Cecil's third start of the season. He lost to the Yanks on opening day and to the A's in Boston last Sunday.

The A's pitcher was Don Black, who already holds one decision over the Sox this season.

FIRST INNING

RED SOX—Busch threw out Newsome. Steiner singled. Hall threw out Metkovich. Black threw out Johnson. NO RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Metro was called out on strikes. Peck flied to Fox. Estalella walked. Hayes struck out. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

RED SOX—Fox beat out a hit to deep short. Tobin grounded into a double play, Hall to Busch to Siebert. Culbertson was safe when Siebert dropped Burns' throw. Garbark grounded to Hill, who stepped on second, forcing Culberson. NO RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Seibert grounded out to Metkovich. Cecil tossed out Hall. Newsome threw out Busch. NO RUNS.

Charley Eagle Picked To Battle Lou Nova

Lou Nova, will headline the Callahan A. C. show at Mechanics Building, Thursday night when he clashes with Charlie Eagle, New England heavyweight champion in the 10-round feature bout.

The 200-pound Californian recently lost a decision to Joe Baksi at Madison Square Garden after being in front for three quarters of the bout. Nova received a badly cut eye which slowed him down in the last two rounds and turned the tide in favor of Baksi.

Pres. Truman Baseball Fan

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Sen. Chandler (D.) of Kentucky, baseball's new boss, described President Truman today as a "great baseball fan" eager for the game to continue.

Chandler called at the White House with Sen. Hatch (D.) of New Mexico and Leslie Biffle, secretary of the Senate.

"I think I am justified in saying he is friendly," the Kentuckian told newsmen.

At another point he said:

"The President is a great baseball fan and I think he's anxious for the game to continue."

Chandler said he personally wants to use "legitimate 4-Fs" for the national pastime, of whom he estimated there are 4,000,000 in the country. He said 400 or 500 of them ought to be available for baseball.

Phils Lose Prospective Third Sacker to Navy

PHILADELPHIA, April 28 (AP)—The management of the Philadelphia Phillies is trying to recover from the rude jolt handed it by Elisha (Bitsy) Mott's entrance into the Navy yesterday.

Mott, on the basis of some sharp fielding and timely hitting in the Phils' early games, was apparently a fixture on third base. Veteran Jimmy Foxx probably will take over the hot corner if his ailing feet can stand the gaff.
